The Union has published a recently ratfied treaty between France and the United States. It proposes that all the States of the Union, whose laws permit, Frenchmen shall enjoy the right of possessing personal and real property by the same title and in the same manner as citizens of the United States, and the President engages to recommend to such States as do not permit aliens to hold real estate, to pass such laws as may confer the right. The French Government, in like manner, but with the reservation of the ulterior right of establishing a reciprocity in regard to possession and inheritance, accords to a citizen of the United States the same rights with in its territory in respect to real and personal property, and to inheritance, as are enjoyed there by its own citizens .- Cin.
